Psychology Week

Monday, November 2 – Saturday, November 7, 2009

16th NC Psychological Foundation Undergraduate Conference
Psi Chi, NCA&TSU Psychology Honor Society, 30th Anniversary

The week of November 2 - 7, 2009 the NCA&TSU Psychology Department is hosting "Psychology Week". This week will have symposia Monday -Thursday at 6 p.m. on "Health and Health Disparities", "Racism and Classism in the Hip Hop Generation", "Leadership Development and Psychology", "How to Write a "Statement of Interest" for Graduate School " and "Resume Writing for the Social Sciences". On Friday Nov. 5 there will be a celebration of the 30th Anniversary of the NCA&TSU Chapter of The Psi Chi International Psychology Honor Society founded by Dr. Susan Schumacher 30 years ago. Dr. Scott Vanderstoep, Psi Chi International Psychology Honor Society President will be the guest speaker at the Induction on Friday Nov. 6. The week will culminate on Saturday, November 7th with NCA&TSU hosting the 16th annual state-wide North Carolina Psychological Foundation Undergraduate Conference (NCPFUC). Students from colleges and universities throughout North Carolina and surrounding states will attend sessions on careers in psychology, psychology graduate training, GRE preparation, as well as talk to graduate school recruiters. Also, psychologists in private practice, agencies, and universities throughout the state will be in attendance to talk with students in small group sessions about their areas of specialization. Please contact Drs. Sue Schumacher or Phyllis Ford-Booker if you have questions. (336)285-2276, drsueres@gmail.com; (336)285-2269, bookerp@ncat.edu.
